2. Business Combination

On February 16, 2012, the Company completed the acquisition of the video conferencing business of Israel-based VCON Video Conferencing, Ltd. (“VCON”) through an asset purchase agreement. VCON is a pioneer in software based video conferencing solutions with product offerings that include group video conferencing endpoints, desktop video conferencing endpoints, video conferencing infrastructure solutions and software development kits. This acquisition and the combination of streaming and digital signage technologies will provide us with complimentary technology opportunities allowing us to enter new growth markets.

Pursuant to the asset purchase agreement, the Company paid initial consideration of $4,632 in cash. This initial consideration is subject to a final working capital adjustment.

The estimated fair values of assets acquired and liabilities assumed are preliminary and are based on the information that was available as of the acquisition date to estimate the fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed. The Company believes that such information provides a reasonable basis for estimating the fair values of assets acquired and liabilities assumed, but the Company is waiting for additional information necessary to finalize those fair values. The measurement period for purchase price allocation ends as soon as information on the facts and circumstances becomes available, but will not exceed twelve months from the date of acquisition. Adjustments in the purchase price allocation may require a recasting of the amounts allocated to intangible assets and possible allocation to goodwill, retroactive to the period in which the acquisition occurred. Therefore, the preliminary measurements of fair value reflected are subject to change and any such changes could be significant.

The preliminary fair value of identified assets and liabilities acquired and goodwill was as follows:

Inventory	$ 320
Property and equipment	34
Product warranty liability	(8)
Tradenname	500
Patents and technology	2,300
Proprietary software	500
In-process research and development	200
Goodwill	786
	$ 4,632

The Company incurred $40 and $227 towards acquisition related expenses, all of which are categorized under general and administrative expenses in the condensed consolidated statements of operations for the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, respectively.

5. Share-based Compensation

Share-based compensation expense has been recorded as follows:

	Three months ended June 30,		Six months ended June 30,
	2012	2011	2012	2011
Cost of goods sold	$ -	$ -	$ 1	$ -

As of June 30, 2012, the total remaining unrecognized compensation cost related to non-vested stock options, net of forfeitures, was approximately $594 which will be recognized over a weighted average period of 2.79 years.

During the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, we granted 65,000 and 95,000 stock options, respectively. During the three and six months ended June 30, 2011, we granted 5,000 stock options. We use judgment in determining the fair value of the share-based payments on the date of grant using an option-pricing model with assumptions regarding a number of highly complex and subjective variables. These variables include the risk-free interest rate of the awards, the expected life of the awards, the expected volatility over the term of the awards, the expected dividends of the awards, and an estimate of the amount of awards that are expected to be forfeited. We use the Black-Scholes option pricing model to determine the fair value of share-based payments granted under ASC Topic 718.

In applying the Black-Scholes methodology to the options granted, the Company used the following assumptions:

	Three months ended June 30,		Six months ended June 30,
	2012	2011	2012	2011
Risk-free interest rate, average	1.2%	2.5%	1.5%	2.5%

7. Proceeds from Litigation

During the six months ended June 30, 2012, $250 was received as a settlement of amounts due from a defendant in our litigation related to the “Theft of Intellectual Property and Related Cases” described in detail in Note 8 – Commitments and Contingencies of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011.

8. Income Taxes

The Company’s forecasted effective tax rate at June 30, 2012 is 37.4%, a 2.8 percentage-point increase from the 34.6% effective tax rate recorded at December 31, 2011. The increase is primarily attributable to the expiration of the U.S. research and development credit on December 31, 2011. The effective tax rate recorded for the quarter ending June 30, 2012 is 48.6%. The difference between the forecasted effective tax rate and the rate recorded is primarily due to discrete items related to uncertain tax positions. The reserve for uncertain tax positions increased by approximately $123 during the quarter ended June 30, 2012 as a result of derecognition of tax benefits recognized in a prior period.

Accrued liabilities as of June 30, 2012 and December 31, 2011 include accrued income taxes payable of $294 and $300, respectively.

9. Commitments and Contingencies

The Company entered in to a consulting arrangement for a period of 12 months for transition related work with respect to our VCON acquisition. The consulting arrangement provides for a fixed fee of approximately $180 with additional maximum incentive-based fees of approximately $20 associated with accomplishing specific milestones.

10. Subsequent Events

The Company evaluated its consolidated financial statements as of and for the three months ended June 30, 2012 for subsequent events through the date the financial statements were issued. The Company is not aware of any subsequent event which would require recognition or disclosure in the financial statements.

On September 2, 2011, we acquired the business of Oregon based MagicBox, Inc., a developer and marketer of a variety of hardware and software solutions to deliver digital content and information to digital displays. This acquisition significantly broadens ClearOne's current StreamNet offerings and expands its digital signage product portfolio with tools for content and playlist creation and management. The MagicBox content management and its database integration software complement ClearOne's StreamNet systems. The StreamNet and MagicBox technologies are an excellent fit to deliver on the challenging requirements for any digital signage provider to distribute content over a local area network while maintaining content and scheduling alignment. As a result of this acquisition and the combination of StreamNet and Magicbox technologies, we are the only company to offer complete end-to-end digital signage content management, IP streaming, and control solutions.

On February 16, 2012, we acquired the business of Israel based VCON Video Conferencing, Ltd ("VCON") for approximately $4.6 million in cash. The acquisition presents us with new global market opportunities and will facilitate accelerated product development. VCON is a pioneer in software based video conferencing solutions with product offerings that include group video conferencing endpoints, desktop video conferencing endpoints, video conferencing infrastructure solutions and software development kits. This acquisition and the combination of streaming and digital signage technologies will provide us with complimentary technology opportunities allowing us to enter new growth markets.

Our business goals are to:

- Leverage on the streaming, digital signage and video conference technologies we acquired recently to enter new growth markets;
- Maintain our global market share leadership of professional audio conferencing products for large businesses and organizations;
- Focus on the small and medium business (SMB) market with scaled, lower cost and less complex products and solutions;
- Capitalize on the growing adoption of unified communications and introduce new products by entering Information Technology channels;
- Partner with large enterprise communications providers worldwide to bring value added products to their solution portfolios and channels;
- Capitalize on emerging market opportunities as audio video, information technology, unified communications and traditional digital signage converge to meet enterprise and commercial multimedia needs; and
- Expand and strengthen sales channels.

We will continue to improve our existing high-quality products and develop new products for the burgeoning conferencing and collaboration, and multimedia streaming markets and focus on strategic initiatives to achieve our business goals.

Our revenues were $11.7 million and $21.8 million during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, respectively, compared to $11.9 million and $22.6 million during the three and six months ended June 30, 2011, respectively. Revenues decreased by 2% and 3% during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, respectively, over the comparable periods of 2011. Our gross profit decreased by $63,000 and $257,000 during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, respectively, compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2011. Net income also decreased by $746,000 and $1.1 million during the three and six months ended June 30, 2012, respectively, compared to the three and six months ended June 30, 2011. Net income declined due to reduced revenue and added costs due to acquisitions.

We expect the recent acquisitions and new product introductions to start contributing to revenue in the near future. The prospects of growth in both revenues and profits in the near future would depend on the strength of the global economy and the penetration level of our new products including products added through acquisitions. We continue to closely monitor the global economic events and continue our existing measures to control costs and invest in strategic products and initiatives.

A detailed discussion of our results of operations follows below.

Revenue

Revenue for the three months ended June 30, 2012 (“2012 Q2”) decreased by approximately 2% over the three months ended June 30, 2011 (“2011 Q2”). The revenues decreased due to reduced demand across all the regions except EMEA, which had a modest growth. All product categories with the exception of premium conferencing suffered decline in revenues.

Revenue for the six months ended June 30, 2012 (“2012 H1”) decreased by approximately 3% over the six months ended June 30, 2011 (“2011 H1”). The revenues decreased due to reduced demand across all the regions and all the product categories with the exception of premium conferencing.

The decline in revenues were partially offset by additional revenues from video conferencing and digital signage products.

During 2012 Q2 and 2011 Q2, the net change in deferred revenue was net recognition of revenue of $371,000 and $811,000, respectively. During 2012 H1 and 2011 H1, the net change in deferred revenue was net deferral of $48,000 and net recognition of revenue of $553,000, respectively. See “Critical Accounting Policies and Estimates” under “Revenue and Associated Allowance for Revenue Adjustments and Doubtful Accounts” below for a detailed discussion of deferred revenue.

Costs of Goods Sold and Gross Profit

Costs of goods sold include expenses associated with finished goods purchased from electronic manufacturing services (EMS) providers, in addition to other operating expenses, which include material and direct labor, our manufacturing and operations organization, property and equipment depreciation, warranty expenses, freight expenses, royalty payments, and the allocation of overhead expenses.

Our gross profit margin (GPM), which is gross profit as a percentage of revenue, was 61% and 60% in 2012 Q2 and 2011 Q2, respectively. GPM for 2012 H1 was 61% compared to 60% during 2011 H1.

Operating Expenses

2012 Q2 operating expenses were approximately $6.0 million, an increase of approximately $686,000 from $5.3 million in 2011 Q2, or an increase of 13%. 2012 H1 operating expenses excluding litigation proceeds of $250,000 were approximately $11.6 million, an increase of approximately $1.2 million from $10.4 million in 2011 H1, or an increase of 12%. The litigation proceeds of $250,000 represent the receipt of a settlement of amounts due from a defendant in our litigation related to the "Theft of Intellectual Property and Related Cases" described in detail in Note 8 – Commitments and Contingencies of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011..

Sales and Marketing ("S&M") Expenses. S&M expenses include selling, customer service, and marketing expenses such as employee-related costs, allocations of overhead expenses, trade shows, and other advertising and selling expenses.

S&M expenses during 2012 Q2 and 2012 H1 increased by approximately $148,000 and $299,000, respectively or 7%, when compared to previous periods. The increase in S&M expenses during 2012 Q2 and 2012 H1 was primarily due to increased employee-related costs resulting from added headcount in connection with recent acquisitions and increased marketing expenses partially offset by decreases in commission paid to independent sales agents.

Research and Development ("R&D") Expenses. R&D expenses include research and development and product line management, including employee-related costs, outside services, expensed materials and depreciation, and an allocation of overhead expenses.

R&D expenses during 2012 Q2 increased by $213,000, or 12%, compared to R&D expenses during 2011 Q2. The increase was primarily due to increases in employee-related costs due to recent acquisitions, partially offset by decreases in project related costs.

R&D expenses during 2012 H1 increased by $584,000, or 17%, compared to R&D expenses during 2011 H1. The increase was primarily due to increases in employee-related costs due to recent acquisitions, and other hires partially offset by decreases in software and subscription costs.

General and Administrative ("G&A") Expenses. G&A expenses include employee-related costs, professional service fees, allocations of overhead expenses, litigation costs, and corporate administrative costs, including finance, information technology and human resources.

G&A expenses during 2012 Q2 increased by $325,000, or 24%, compared to expenses during 2011 Q2. The increase was primarily due to increased costs associated with the recently acquired operations of VCON, increase in amortization of intangibles, and increased employee-related costs partially offset by a reduction in bad debts.

G&A expenses during 2012 H1 increased by $358,000, or 13%, compared to expenses during 2011 H1. The increase was primarily due to increased costs associated with the recently acquired operations of VCON, an increase in amortization of intangibles and bank fees, partially offset by reduction in legal expenses, bad debts, recruitment costs and consulting expenses.

We continue to incur high legal expenses due to various litigation issues explained in detail in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011.

Other income (expense), net

Other income (expense), net, includes interest income, interest expense, and currency gain (loss).

Provision for income taxes

During 2012 Q2, we accrued income taxes at the expected annualized rate of 37.4% as compared to annualized rate of 33.5% in 2011 Q2. The increase in the expected annualized rate in 2012 Q2 was primarily due to the expiration of federal R&D credit on December 31, 2011.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

As of June 30, 2012, our cash and cash equivalents were approximately $10.4 million, a decrease of $6.3 million compared to cash and cash equivalents of approximately $16.7 million as of December 31, 2011.

Net cash used in operating activities was $1.4 million in 2012 H1, a decrease of approximately $1.9 million compared to $496,000 cash provided by operating activities in 2011 H1. The decrease was primarily due to increases in inventories, an increase in payments for accounts payable and income taxes offset by increased inflows from accounts receivables.

Net cash used in investing activities in 2012 H1 was approximately $4.8 million, which consisted of the acquisition of the business of VCON for $4.6 million and $202,000 towards purchases of equipment. Net cash used in investing activities in 2011 H1 consisted of the purchase of equipment of approximately $248,000.

Net cash used in financing activities in 2012 H1 was approximately $11,000, which consisted of the acquisition of outstanding stock totaling $92,000 offset by $81,000 proceeds received on exercise of stock options. In 2011 H1, net cash provided by financing activities amounted to $717,000 through proceeds received on the exercise of stock options.

As of June 30, 2012 our working capital was $30.0 million as compared to $32.7 million as of December 31, 2011.

We believe that future income from operations and effective management of working capital will provide the liquidity needed to meet our short-term and long-term operating requirements and finance our growth plans. We also believe that our strong financial position and solid business model will help us raise additional capital when needed to meet our short and long-term financing needs. In addition to capital expenditures, we may use cash in the near future for selective investments in technological, marketing or product manufacturing capabilities to broaden our product offerings, and for acquisitions that may strategically fit our business and are accretive to our business performance. However, no assurance can be given that changes will not occur that would consume available capital resources at a rate more rapidly than anticipated and we may need or want to raise additional capital through debt or equity financing to fund our operations within this period of time.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND ESTIMATES

Our discussion and analysis of our results of operations and financial position are based upon our consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles. We review the accounting policies used in reporting our financial results on a regular basis. The preparation of these financial statements requires us to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. We evaluate our assumptions and estimates on an ongoing basis and may employ outside experts to assist in our evaluations. We believe that the estimates we use are reasonable; however, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Our significant accounting policies are described in Note 2 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011 and Note 1 to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements attached herewith. We believe the policies described below identify our most critical accounting policies, which are the policies that are both important to the representation of our financial condition and results and require our most difficult, subjective or complex judgments, often as a result of the need to make estimates about the effect of matters that are inherently uncertain.

Revenue and Associated Allowances for Revenue Adjustments and Doubtful Accounts

Included in continuing operations is product revenue, primarily from product sales to distributors, dealers, and end-users. Product revenue is recognized when (i) the products are shipped and any right of return expires, (ii) persuasive evidence of an arrangement exists, (iii) the price is fixed and determinable, and (iv) collection is reasonably assured.

We provide a right of return on product sales to major distributors under a product rotation program. Under this seldom used program, a distributor is allowed to return, once a quarter, products purchased during the prior 180 days for a total value generally not exceeding 15% of the distributor's net purchases during the preceding quarter. The distributor is, however, required to place a new purchase order for an amount not less than the value of products returned under the stock rotation program. When products are returned, the associated revenue, cost of goods sold, inventory and accounts receivable originally recorded are reversed. When the new order is placed, the revenue, associated cost of goods sold, inventory and accounts receivable are recorded and the product revenue is subject to deferral analysis as described below. In a small number of cases, the distributors are also permitted to return the products for other business reasons.

Revenue from product sales to distributors is not recognized until the return privilege has expired or it can be determined with reasonable certainty that the return privilege has expired, which approximates when product is sold-through to customers of our distributors (dealers, system integrators, value-added resellers, and end-users) rather than when the product is initially shipped to a distributor. We evaluate, at each quarter-end, the inventory in the channel through information provided by our distributors. The level of inventory in the channel will fluctuate up or down, each quarter, based upon our distributors' individual operations. Accordingly, each quarter-end deferral of revenue and associated cost of goods sold is calculated and recorded based upon the actual channel inventory reported at quarter-end. Further, with respect to distributors and other channel partners not reporting channel inventory, the revenue and associated cost of goods sold are deferred until we receive payment for the product sales made to such distributors or channel partners.

The accuracy of the deferred revenue and costs depends to a large extent on the accuracy of the inventory reports provided by our distributors and other resellers and any material error in those reports would affect our revenue deferral. However, we believe that the controls we have in place, including periodic physical inventory verifications and analytical reviews, would help us identify and prevent any material errors in such reports.

The amounts of deferred cost of goods sold were included in consigned inventory. The following table details the amount of deferred revenue, cost of goods sold, and gross profit (dollars in thousands):

	As of
	June 30, 2012	December 31, 2011
Deferred revenue	$ 3,451	$ 3,404
Deferred cost of goods sold	1,247	1,199
Deferred gross profit	$ 2,204	$ 2,205

We offer rebates and market development funds to certain of our distributors, dealers/resellers, and end-users based upon volume of product purchased by them. We record rebates as a reduction of revenue in accordance with GAAP.

We offer credit terms on the sale of our products to a majority of our customers and perform ongoing credit evaluations of our customers' financial condition. We maintain an allowance for doubtful accounts for estimated losses resulting from the inability or unwillingness of our customers to make required payments based upon our historical collection experience and expected collectability of all accounts receivable. Our actual bad debts in future periods may differ from our current estimates and the differences may be material, which may have an adverse impact on our future accounts receivable and cash position.

Impairment of Goodwill and Intangible Assets

We allocated the purchase price of our acquisition of NetStreams, Inc. and the business of Magic Box, Inc. on the basis of well-established valuation techniques performed by qualified experts. The purchase price towards the acquisition of the business of VCON Video Conferencing, Ltd. has been allocated on a provisional basis pending full valuation. Goodwill is measured as the excess of the fair value of acquisition consideration over the sum of the fair values of tangible and identifiable intangible assets acquired less liabilities assumed. We intend to perform impairment tests of goodwill and intangible assets with an indefinite useful life, on an annual basis in the fourth fiscal quarter, or sooner if a triggering event occurs suggesting possible impairment of the values of these assets. As of June 30, 2012, $1.9 million and $759,000 have been recorded as goodwill and intangible assets with an indefinite useful life, respectively. In response to changes in industry, technology and competitive circumstances we may be required to exit or dispose of the acquired businesses, which could result in an impairment of goodwill and intangible assets.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets

We assess the impairment of long-lived assets, such as property and equipment and definite-lived intangibles subject to amortization, annually or whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset or asset group to estimated future undiscounted net cash flows of the related asset or group of assets over their remaining lives. If the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its estimated future undiscounted cash flows, an impairment charge is recognized for the amount by which the carrying amount exceeds the estimated fair value of the asset. Impairment of long-lived assets is assessed at the lowest levels for which there are identifiable cash flows that are independent of other groups of assets. The impairment of long-lived assets requires judgments and estimates. If circumstances change, such estimates could also change. Assets held for sale are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or fair value, less the estimated costs to sell.

Accounting for Income Taxes

We are subject to income taxes in both the United States and in certain non-U.S. jurisdictions. We estimate our current tax position together with our future tax consequences attributable to temporary differences resulting from differing treatment of items, such as deferred revenue, depreciation, and other reserves for tax and accounting purposes. These temporary differences result in deferred tax assets and liabilities. We must then assess the likelihood that our deferred tax assets will be recovered from future taxable income, prior year carryback, or future reversals of existing taxable temporary differences. To the extent we believe that recovery is not more likely than not, we establish a valuation allowance against these deferred tax assets. Significant judgment is required in determining our provision for income taxes, our deferred tax assets and liabilities, and any valuation allowance recorded against our deferred tax assets. To the extent we establish a valuation allowance in a period, we must include and expense the allowance within the tax provision in the consolidated statement of operations. Our valuation allowance at June 30, 2012 is $1.2 million.

Lower-of-Cost or Market Adjustments and Reserves for Excess and Obsolete Inventory

We account for our inventory on a first-in, first-out basis, and make appropriate adjustments on a quarterly basis to write-down the value of inventory to the lower-of-cost or market. In addition to the price of the product purchased, the cost of inventory includes our internal manufacturing costs including warehousing, material purchasing, quality and product planning expenses.

We perform a quarterly analysis of obsolete and slow-moving inventory to determine if any inventory needs to be written down. In general, we write down our excess and obsolete inventory by an amount that is equal to the difference between the cost of the inventory and its estimated market value if market value is less than cost, based upon assumptions about future product life-cycles, product demand, shelf life of the product, inter-changeability of the product and market conditions. Those items that are found to have a supply in excess of our estimated current demand are considered to be slow-moving or obsolete and classified as long-term. An appropriate reserve is made to write down the value of that inventory to its expected realizable value. These charges are recorded in cost of goods sold.

The reserve against slow-moving or obsolete inventory is established based on several factors which, among other things, require us to make an estimate of a product's life-cycle, potential demand and our ability to sell these products at estimated price levels. While we make considerable efforts to calculate reasonable estimates of these variables, actual results may vary. If there were to be a sudden and significant decrease in demand for our products, or if there were a higher incidence of inventory obsolescence because of changing technology and customer requirements, we could be required to increase our inventory reserves, and our gross profit could be adversely affected.

Share-Based Compensation

Prior to June 30, 2005 and as permitted under the then existing FASB guidelines under SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation," we accounted for our share-based payments following the recognition and measurement principles of Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees," as interpreted. Accordingly, no share-based compensation expense had been reflected in our statements of operations for unmodified option grants since (1) the exercise price equaled the market value of the underlying common stock on the grant date and (2) the related number of shares to be granted upon exercise of the stock option was fixed on the grant date.

In December 2004, the FASB issued guidelines now contained under FASB ASC Topic 718, Compensation – Stock Compensation. ASC Topic 718 establishes standards for the accounting for transactions in which an entity exchanges its equity instruments for goods or services. Primarily, this Topic focuses on accounting for transactions in which an entity obtains employee services in share-based payment transactions. It also addresses transactions in which an entity incurs liabilities in exchange for goods or services that are based on the fair value of the entity's equity instruments or that may be settled by the issuance of those equity instruments. Under ASC Topic 718, we measure the cost of employee services received in exchange for an award of equity instruments based on the grant date fair value of the award (with limited exceptions). That cost will be recognized over the period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the awards – the requisite service period (usually the vesting period). No compensation cost is recognized for equity instruments for which employees do not render the requisite service. Therefore, if an employee does not ultimately render the requisite service, the costs associated with the unvested options will not be recognized cumulatively.

Effective July 1, 2005, we adopted the guidelines contained in ASC Topic 718 and its fair value recognition provisions using the modified prospective transition method. Under this transition method, stock-based compensation cost recognized after July 1, 2005 includes the straight-line basis compensation cost for (a) all share-based payments granted prior to July 1, 2005, but not yet vested, based on the grant date fair values used for the pro-forma disclosures under the original SFAS No. 123 and (b) all share-based payments granted or modified on or after July 1, 2005, in accordance with the provisions of ASC Topic 718.

Under ASC Topic 718, we recognize compensation cost net of an anticipated forfeiture rate and recognize the associated compensation cost for those awards expected to vest on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period. We use judgment in determining the fair value of the share-based payments on the date of grant using an option-pricing model with assumptions regarding a number of highly complex and subjective variables. These variables include, but are not limited to, the risk-free interest rate of the awards, the expected life of the awards, the expected volatility over the term of the awards, the expected dividends of the awards, and an estimate of the amount of awards that are expected to be forfeited. If assumptions change in the application of ASC Topic 718 and its fair value recognition provisions in future periods, the stock-based compensation cost ultimately recorded under the guidelines of ASC Topic 718 may differ significantly from what was recorded in the current period.

Item 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Not applicable.

Item 4. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

An evaluation of the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Exchange Act) as of June 30, 2012 was performed under the supervision and with the participation of our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and our Chief Financial Officer. Based on this evaluation, our management, including our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective as of June 30, 2012 to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports we file or submit under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported as specified in the SEC's rules and forms.

There was no change in our internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended June 30, 2012 that materially affected, or that we believe is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II - OTHER INFORMATIONItem 1. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

The following is an update to the status of the legal proceedings and commitments and contingencies reported in our Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2011 under Part I, Item 3. Legal Proceedings and Note 8 - Commitments and Contingencies of the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (Part II, Item 8) and our Form 10-Q for the period ended March 31, 2012 under Part II, Item 1. Legal Proceedings.

Former Officer Indemnification:

Flood: As previously reported, on April 4, 2011, the Tenth Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver affirmed Frances Flood's conviction, but has allowed her to assert in a collateral proceeding her claim that she received ineffective assistance of counsel because her trial counsel allegedly labored under actual conflicts of interest. On June 5, 2012, Judge Benson denied Flood's motion to vacate and set aside her conviction based on this theory.

Also, still pending in the Federal District Court for the District of Utah is our counterclaim for approximately $2,948,000 seeking to enforce Flood's August 2003 promise to repay all advanced expenses if it was ultimately adjudged that she did not meet the requisite standard of conduct.

Strohm: As previously reported, on June 8, 2011, the Third Judicial District Court in Salt Lake City, Utah, entered Judgment in Susie Strohm's lawsuit against us for $973,000 in fees and expenses in the criminal case, plus $362,000 in interest at 18% through February 1, 2011, which amounts were paid by us under protest to Dorsey on February 1, 2011. The Judgment also included $865,000 in civil case fees and expenses plus interest. We have posted a cash bond to cover the civil case fees and interest pending our appeal. On August 4, 2011, the Utah Supreme Court decided that it would hear our appeal. Susie Strohm's counsel appealed as well. Appellate briefs were fully submitted on March 22, 2012, and the Utah Supreme Court has scheduled oral argument for September 6, 2012.

Theft of Intellectual Property and Related Cases:

As previously reported, in December 2011, we reached a settlement with Biamp, resulting in payment to us of $3,860,000, including by release of sum of $3,702,000 to us from the supersedeas bonds posted by Biamp with the Third Judicial District Court, Salt Lake County, State of Utah, and an additional payment. In February 2012, we reached a settlement with a Wideband defendant resulting in payment to us of $250,000.

In August 2007, we filed a motion for a preliminary injunction in the United States District Court, District of Utah, seeking to enjoin Wideband Solutions, Inc. from licensing certain technology we believe constituted our intellectual property and trade secrets to Harman Music Group, Inc. ("Harman").

On September 13, 2007, the court in the Trade Secret Case granted ClearOne leave to add Harman and a former ClearOne employee working for Harman as defendants in that case. For procedural reasons, these claims against Harman and the Harman employee were refiled in Utah state court, the Third Judicial District Court for Salt Lake County, on September 18, 2007 (the “Harman Case”). Like the Intellectual Property Case, the Harman Case brought claims related to the theft and misuse of ClearOne’s confidential and trade secret information. Harman asserted a counterclaim for bad-faith initiation of litigation. In August 2012, this case was settled pursuant to a Confidential Settlement Agreement that resolved the case to the satisfaction of all parties.

Donald Bowers filed appeals in January and February 2012 challenging $236,000 of the $294,000 in the attorney fees awarded against him, and briefing of that appeal is expected to be complete in August 2012.

The DialHD Georgia Action:

On July 27, 2012, the Superior Court of Columbia County in the State of Georgia awarded sanctions against Donald Bowers, and requested we submit a calculation of our fees and costs. On August 3, 2012, we submitted our calculation, requesting $81,000 in costs and attorney fees. The Court has not ruled on this request.
