

Now shipping! The New ClearOne CONVERGENCE™ AV Network Manager

November 18, 2019

New management software platform supports organizations of any size.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 18, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- ClearOne (NASDAQ: CLRO), a leading global provider of audio and visual communications solutions, today announced it has begun the worldwide shipping of its new CONVERGENCE™ AV Network Manager, a unified AV network management platform to monitor, control, and audit ClearOne Pro Audio and Video products and services — beta now available for download.

The cross-platform server runs on Windows and Linux OS for seamless IT integration and remote real-time system access provides at-a-glance and all-inclusive dashboard views.

With unlimited scalability, CONVERGENCE is designed to support organizations of any size with a powerful and elegant user interface on any browser from desktop to mobile. The system has two levels of access — a secure administrator level for full access and a viewer level for monitoring.

Users can efficiently batch firmware updates on multiple audio or video devices at once and take advantage of simple downloading of project files from multiple CONVERGE® Pro 2 and Huddle devices for convenient archiving. Users can also provision CONVERGE Pro 2 VoIP lines and view VoIP registration status.

In addition, ClearOne's COLLABORATE® Live codecs and cloud-based COLLABORATE Space application can be easily configured and managed. Integration with third-party management systems is supported via a RESTful web service interface.
