ClearOne to Focus on New Pro Audio, Digital Signage and Software-based Video Conferencing Solutions at InfoComm 2012

SALT LAKE CITY, June 7, 2012 /PRNewswire/ -- ClearOne (NASDAQ: CLRO) today announced it will be featuring several groundbreaking products and new technology enhancements at InfoComm 2012 in Las Vegas (booth N1827), June 13-16. The company plans to debut its new Beamforming Microphone Array, the CONNECT™ audio bridge product line, a SaaS cloud-hosted signage platform and its new suite of COLLABORATE™ software-based HD video solutions.

"This year, we will be launching several of our newest solutions for professional audio, streaming, video conferencing and digital signage," said Zee Hakimoglu, Chairman and CEO of ClearOne. "We welcome channel partners, integrators, consultants, investors and other stakeholders to stop by to see, hear, and experience for themselves the extraordinary evolution that ClearOne has made in this fast moving market of audio and visual communications."

InfoComm attendees are invited to a series of brief presentations on ClearOne's latest technology in the ClearOne booth #N1827.
